Worldview is recognized as a leading organizer of recruitment fairs focused on Africa. Worldview has helped more than 500 institutions around the world reach and recruits students from across Africa while realizing the dreams of thousands of Africans to study abroad. We are 100 percent focused on Africa and have exceptional knowledge of the region's specialized expertise.

The founder of worldview prides himself on the philosophy that "whatever is worth doing, is worth doing well," and we know the African student market like the back of our hand, which has resulted in an average 90% response rate to our education fairs year after year. Now we have expanded to the Middle East and Southeast Asia. Many more regions will be added to help students find the right institutions and institutions to find the right students.
